

GENT

by Honeywell

PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT

This CPD reminds us why it is important under current legislation that your fire detection systems are properly maintained.

Duration - 1 hour

Who should attend - Building owners and building occupiers, Facility Managers, M&E Consultants, and anyone else involved in the maintenance of the fire detection and alarm system

External Approval - CPD Service

Course details

This CPD reminds all building owners and occupiers why it is important, under current legislation, that your building's fire detection system is properly maintained. It reviews the responsibilities of the owner/occupier and of the service provider towards protecting employees, visitors, property and importantly, your investment.

The presentation describes in detail what the building owner should expect from a qualified service provider, what the code of practice BS 5839-1: 2002 recommends for tests and service, and identifies the documentation that should be maintained by the responsible building owner/occupier.

Certificates of completion are awarded to attendees completing the course.